Acknowledgments

The publication of this report would not be possible without the assistance of the county houses of correction. The author would like to thank the many county houses of correction Records and Administration staff for providing Research & Planning with access to the necessary information to produce this report.

The contribution of DOC employee's Pamela McLaughlin and Collette McKoy are greatly appreciated. Review of earlier drafts, particularly by Research and Executive staff is also very much appreciated.

This report is accessible on the DOC website at www.state.ma.us/doc/ and is also available at the following libraries: Massachusetts State Library; Library of Congress, Washington D.C.; Boston Public Library; University of Massachusetts, Amherst; Springfield City Library; and Worcester Public Library.

If you have any questions regarding this report, please contact Research and Planning.

Executive Summary

The total number of offenders sentenced to Massachusetts county facilities (houses of correction) during 2000 was 15,334. The breakdown by gender was 14,780 males (96% of total population) and 554 females (4% of total population). The largest racial/ethnic group represented was Caucasian (59%), followed by African American (20%) and Hispanic (20%). The average age of inmates incarcerated during 2000 was 32 years for males and 34 years for females, ranging from 17 to 77 years of age. The average sentence length was six months. The average educational level was 11th grade.

Highlights

- ? In 2000, there were 15,334 commitments to county facilities. This represents a decrease of ten percent from the 17,068 commitments in 1999, the third consecutive decrease over the last ten years.
- ? The total number of female commitments continued to decrease from 1997 to 2000 by 428 (44%).
- ? Despite the recent decrease among females in County facilities, there has been a 48% increase over the ten-year period 1991 to 2000.
- ?  Suffolk County had the largest decrease in commitments (32%) from 2,888 in 1999 to 1,951 in 2000.
- ? Twenty-three percent of county commitments were committed for offenses against the person, twenty-one percent for property offenses, nineteen percent for drug offenses, thirteen percent for 'other' offenses, twelve percent for motor vehicle offenses, ten percent for operating under the influence of alcohol (OUI) and two percent for sex offenses.
- ? The most common offenses for which offenders were committed were assault/assault and battery (fifteen percent), motor vehicle violations (eleven percent), and O.U.I. (ten percent).
- ? Two percent were committed in lieu of a fine. There was a significant reduction (14%) in fines issued compared to the previous year (1999). Over the past five years the number of fines has decreased 76%.

 Due to computer conversions, the commitment records for Suffolk County were limited for the period January through April 2000. In an effort to maintain data constancy, the Suffolk County commitments from May to December 2000 were pro rated to the entire 12-month calendar year. In addition to total number of commitments, the characteristics of the committed inmates were also pro rated for the same period.

Introduction

This report provides a statistical description of offenders committed to Massachusetts county facilities (houses of correction) during 2000. Offenders are described in terms of commitment institution, month of commitment, committing court, offense, sentence length, sentence type (weekend and jail sentences), sex, age, race, marital status, education, place of birth, and residence. Trends in court commitments to the county correctional system over the past decade are also presented.

All new court commitments and those individuals who began serving a new sentence during the year are included in this report. If an individual was committed more than once during 2000, each court commitment for that individual is counted separately. Information for offenders committed to the Massachusetts Department of Correction (state facilities) is not included in this report.

The statistical tables were derived from information submitted by each county facility to the Research and Planning Division of the Massachusetts Department of Correction (DOC), and were produced on the DOC's VAX Computer System. A glossary of terms is provided in the back of this report to reference definitions of some terms used.

Due to computer conversions, the commitment records for Suffolk County were limited for the period January through April 2000. In an effort to maintain data constancy, the Suffolk County commitments from May to December 2000 were pro rated to the entire 12-month calendar year. In addition to total number of commitments, the characteristics of the committed inmates were also pro rated for the same period.

There are fourteen counties in Massachusetts. All counties except for Nantucket county have at least one county correctional facility administered by the county sheriff. These facilities usually contain a jail for pre-trial detainees, and a house of correction for sentenced inmates. Suffolk county has a separate facility for its jail (Nashua Street) and its house of correction (South Bay). Middlesex county has two facilities, a combined jail and house of correction in Billerica and a jail in Cambridge.

Four counties have specialized facilities for sentenced offenders: Essex county has the Correctional Alternative Center (CAC) in Lawrence; Hampden county has the Western Massachusetts Correctional Alcohol Center (WMCAC) facility in Springfield; Bristol county has the David R. Nelson Correctional Addiction Center (DRNCAC) in New Bedford; and Norfolk county has the Braintree Alternative Center (BAC) in Braintree. Individuals are not committed directly to these four facilities, but can be transferred to them from a house of correction or state correctional facility.

This report has been organized into three sections. The first section describes the demographic characteristics of 2000 commitments. The second section depicts information about criminal offenses for the inmate population. The third section addresses data regarding sentencing, such as court from which committed, type of sentence, and sentence length. Please note that due to rounding, percentages may not add to 100%.
